GOLDEN WEDDING ON CHESTNUT STREET.

On one Thanksgiving day, fifty years ago, in 1858, at Denmark, Iowa, Mary A. Gearhart was united in marriage to Theodore Pyle, by Rev. Asa Turner. The Golden West lured them some years ago and on this last Thanksgiving day, 1908, they celebrated their golden wedding at their pretty home on Chestnut street. Their union was blessed by seven children, six of whom are living, and four—one daughter and three sons—were there to bring cheer to their parents' hearts. Two sons are still in Iowa. They are all married but one. Mr. and Mrs. Pyle have five grandchildren, three of whom helped to celebrate the day. The house was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums, palms, ferns and roses. The prevailing colors were yellow and green, in honor of the occasion. The bride was gowned in pure white and wore La France roses. One room was made into a Japanese bower, with a huge Japanese umbrella almost covering the ceiling, and electric lights at the end of the handle. Japanese fans and miniature screens of nearly every description were grouped, tastefully, around the side walls, and with flowers in profusion, made a unique and pretty conceit. Special mention should be given the dining table, with its snowy linen, huge turkeys and all the savory dishes and tothsome dainties it held; but the crowning feature was the beautiful center piece, a tall Boston fern, two feet high, was banked with roses and yellow chrysanthemums, intermingled with green, the effect bewildering, and certainly a work of art, and typical of the day.

They received many useful and beautiful presents, one, a purse of gold, from friends and members of the family. The evening was given over to music and a good time generally, and many wishes were expressed for a long life and many more anniversaries of their union. The guests, Mrs. Ella Christy, their only daughter, and her two children, of Eureka, Kas., and Mrs. Clara Keeney, a sister of Mr. Pyle, from Topeka, Kas., were the only relatives from a distance. C. G. Pyle and wife of Ocean Park, P. W. Pyle, wife and daughter of Pasadena, and J. C. Pyle of Los Angeles, were the sons and their families present. A cousin of the bride is Mrs. Emma Gearhart, and daughters of Pasadena, and a few friends, helped to celebrate the day. Mr. Pyle is seventy-one and his wife sixty-nine years of age, making them a very young couple fifty years ago. A pleasing feature of the dinner was a poem read by Mrs. Emma Gearhart, which was written for the occasion by the bride's brother, now living in Washington, D. C.

THE CORNER STONE CEREMONIES

The crowd that gathered at the site of the new High School building last Saturday afforded ample evidence to prove that Glendale is the center of a growing community. It seemed to appeal particularly to some of our visitors who came here to take part in or witness the ceremonies, who had attended when the corner stone of the first High School building was laid six eyars ago. The short time required to enable us to outgrow the capacity of the old building, suggests speculation as to how many years the splendid building now in course of erection will suffice to serve its purpose. It was about three o'clock when the members of the Masonic order who were to take part in the ceremony, marched to the grandstand at the northeast corner of the building, headed by a band from Los Angeles that discoursed national airs. Supt. Keppel, county superintendent of schools gave the opening address, taking advantage of the occasion to throw the usual number of bouquets to Glendale and vicinity. He then spoke of the desirability of an educational system which should not be as top-heavy as the present one, but would be better adapted to fitting young people for those useful employments into which there are sufficient number of them finally drift. He is of the opinion that there are a sufficient number of lawyers, doctors, editors, etc., in the world and he would educate along lines which shall not have a tendency to drive young people to the cities. The response of Grand Master Lawler (who is also U. S. district attorney) was brief, but eloquent and appropriate. The oration of Rev. H. K. Walker, who spoke here at the cornerstone laying, six years ago, was an eloquent, logical and earnest plea for an education along spiritual lines particularly, although he intimated that he did not entirely agree with Mr. Keppel in regard to the "edad languages." The impressive ceremonies of the Masons in putting the cornerstone in place were performed without a hitch and the audience was an appreciative one. The following is the program: Music, America (1, 2, 4 stanzas), assembly, led by band; opening address, Mark Keppel, county superintendent of schools; music, band; presentation of trowel, A. W. Collins, president board of trustees; response, M. W. Oscar Lawlor, grand master of Masons; ritual service, grand lodge; music, band; oration, Rev. Hugh K. Walker, D. D.; music, "Old Hundred," assembly; benediction, Rev. J. H. Henry, D. D.

CITRUS SHIPMENTS.

The Sparr Fruit company and Pinkham and McKevitt are busily sorting and packing lemons. Several cars will be shipped for the Christmas trade. Few navels will go out for the holidays this year, as the season is about three weeks behind that of last year, when November nights were not so cool and fruit had colored more rapidly. The present outlook for the season is very good, however. The lemons are a fair average crop and navels are pretty well colored. The recent heavy rain gave the ground a thorough soaking and this with a few days of bright sunshine, will soon put Glendale navels upon the coast market and later the Middle West and Eastern markets as well. Prices promise now to be as good, if not better, than last year, and on the whole it is not considered any real drawback that the season is a little backward.

The thorough fumigation given affected trees in this district leaves a clean crop. Valencias seemed to drop from the trees and more than the navels, but enough are left to leave a feeling of satisfaction among growers.

Mrs. Needham is visiting her niece, Mrs. Edgar Leavitt, this week.

A full attendance of members and their friends is desired. An interesting program, illustrated by a fine new set of pictures, and mass is an important and instructive feature.

THE JUBILEE SINGERS.

We trust that our readers are reserving the evening of Dec. 16th for the enjoyment of the concert of the Jubilee Singers. Such music as is rendered by this double quartet can rarely be heard even in our largest cities. It is not excelled by any concert company in the world.

Bishop McIntyre speaks of them as "a fine company of artists."

The Rev. Dr. Humphrey of the Glendale M. E. church, says that he can give them his unqualified approval.

They seldom give a concert where they are not recalled the next season if possible and greeted with a larger house than before.

The program will present great variety, jubilee and plantation songs, negro melodies and lulabys, as well as classic selections.

The prices of admission will be very low for such an entertainment, 50 and 35 cents, for reserved seats and 25 cents for general admission.

It is the belief of those who have the matter in hand that every seat will be sold and standing room will be at a premium. It will be wise to reserve your seat at once.

Tickets are on sale Monday morning, December 7th, until all reserved seats are sold, at the Glendale Pharmacy, the Miradero Pharmacy and at the Tropico Mercantile Co.'s Store, Tropico.

Miss Ward is now identified with the Filmore School of Music in Los Angeles, which gives her pupils the advantage of taking grade lessons of their teacher here, with the privilege of taking examinations under Prof. Filmore at stated intervals, in the Blanchard hall of music. The pupils are advancing rapidly, as was demonstrated by little Hobart Ehrmann, who played a charming little number, tho' he has only practiced since July.

A Smart Tea.

Mrs. L. C. Brand was hostess Thursday afternoon at a swell tea given at the Glendale Country Club. Over two hundred and fifty invitations had been issued but owing to the inclemency of the weather, not more than one hundred responded. The assembly room was very beautifully done in plumosus, shades were drawn and many lights added to the well-planned effect.

In the dining-room English ivy was combined with plumosus, and the long table bore graceful masses of Cecil Brunner rose-buds. Scattered over the table were dainty pink buds joined with silver cord and the effect was at once unique and delightful.

Mrs. Brand, in pale pink satin, built directorie, stood in the receiving hall unbonneted, as were the assisting ladies, Mrs. R. H. Howell, Mrs. C. Stanton, Mrs. E. Wilson, Mrs. W. P. Dunham, Mrs. Willard Doran, Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. W. G. Hutchison, Mrs. C. H. Clark, Mrs. H. K. Williams, Mrs. J. T. Stewart, Mrs. A. F. Morlan, Mrs. G. Cole.

Those assisting Miss Austeine George at table were the Misses Florence Avery, Salley Utley, Josephine McMillan, Florence Clark, Gladys Reynolds, Helen McDonald.

Music was furnished by a Venitian orchestra.

Guests were from Los Angeles principally, though Hollywood, Pasadena, Ocean Park, Tropico and Glendale contributed.

MRS. ALBRIGHT ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. Frank Albright on Tuesday afternoon entertained ladies of the Presbyterian Aid Society. Several members were present and also three guests. At the close of a short business session the ladies sewed. It was decided not at present to continue the Saturday delicatessen sales, as the approach of the holidays makes a heavy demand on the time of those interested. Much interest was manifested in a unique affair which will take place soon after Christmas, under auspices of the society.

FREE ART EXHIBIT

Mrs. Helen F. Frazer of Lomita Park will give a free exhibition and sale of her hand painted china and water colors at the residence of Mr. C. O. Pulliam, Second and Kenwood street, Friday, Dec. 11th, from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. The people of Glendale and vicinity are cordially invited.

Little Things.

From a sermon of Rev. J. F. Moody.

An elephant is very much larger than a man, but is inferior to a man.

How important it is to live for ONE day at a time.

Men who pay respect to little things can be trusted to greater things.

Fidelity to the small affairs of life determines the great things of life.

Character is builded by attention to the little things we do.

All can and must do something in the service of the Lord.

Your service is important and cannot be done by anybody else.

"She hath done what she could."

REMOVAL OF PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The public library has removed to the Wellner building on Glendale avenue, between Third and Fourth street, formerly occupied by the shoe store. The new quarters are much more desirable than the old in every way, particularly as regards location, which is more central and conspicuous. No doubt the number of patrons of the library will be increased by the change. Open Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 1 to 6 p.m.

FOR ROAD OVERSEER.

Mr. W. R. Light, of Tropico, announces his candidacy for the office of road overseer for the district of which Tropico is a part. Mr. Light is an old resident of Tropico, is a Republican in politics and has done a great deal of work on the public roads, under two or three administrations. His experience ought to qualify him for the place and everybody who knows him can testify to his upright character.

A SPANISH LUNCHEON.

Despite the downpour of rain on Wednesday afternoon Mrs. M. G. Taylor of Third street entertained sixteen ladies from a Los Angeles bridge whist club of which she is an enthusiastic member. The affair was a Spanish luncheon at Casa Verdugo, and it proved an interesting and delightful experience to the guests. The menu and the decorations were Spanish and the ladies, their ardor undampened, declared Mrs. Taylor a delightful hostess.

THE STREET TREE PLANTING ORDINANCE.

The attention of all citizens of Glendale is particularly called to the Ordinance published in this issue in regard to the removal, planting, trimming, etc., of trees along the public streets. This ordinance is framed with the object in view of regulating this matter so that uniformity may result and some system be brought out of chaos. Citizens should endeavor to assist in its enforcement.

Mr. and Mrs. John Radcliffe, complimentary to their niece, Miss Zada Rainkin, of Kansas, entertained a merry coterie of young people at their nome Saturday evening. The house was tastefully decorated with greenery and cut flowers. Games and music were very much enjoyed. An elaborate collation was served and adieus bidden at a late hour.

Rupert Malone, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Malone, was bitten Monday morning by a monkey belonging to a traveling company that had been staying here for a couple of days. The boys had been teasing the monkeys and when Rupert went to feed it, the monkey grabbed his hand, tearing the flesh from his fourth finger, and also the end of the finger bone. He was taken immediately to Dr. Thompson, the finger being taken off at the second joint.

Austin Trueman, son of James F. Trueman, died at his home, Sunday at noon. He had not been strong for the past year, suffering from tuberculosis. Lastly he had made his home at Randsburg, at which place he had mining interests. He arrived home in time for Thanksgiving, and was taken suddenly ill, and died on Sunday. He was about thirty years old. Funeral services were held at the home Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. N. J. Burton, of the Methodist church. Interment was made at Grand View Cemetery.

Part of the new two-story brick block which Geo. H. Wood is having constructed was blown down Saturday morning about 6 o'clock, by the hard and high northeast wind that blew all night long. The building was about ready for the roof. The front end fell into the street, while the back crumbled inside, destroying a good deal of carpenter work. The loss to Contractor Stiles will amount to about $400. The building was to have been completed by the first of the year, this misfortune delaying the work about a month longer.

GLENDALE, CAL., DECEMBER 5, 1908

The Hon. Joseph Cannon will probably be the speaker of the incoming congress, but will be shorn of some of his power by a change in the personnel of his committee on rules. That "Uncle Joe" has been pretty arbitrary is admitted by everybody and a curtailment of his powers will be for the public good. But what a pity that "Jud" Rush wasn't elected so that he could have shown Uncle Joe a thing or two!

The total contributions to the National Republican campaign fund in the recent campaign were between $1,500,000 and $1,750,000. As the contributions to this fund in the previous three campaigns were respectively $7,000,000, $5,000,000 and $4,500,000, it would appear that money is not the thing that votes after all; or if it is so, the voting power of the dollar is vastly increased, and that idea lacks any logical support.

Secretary of War Wright in appearing before the ways and means committee, recently, made a strong plea for the admission of Philippine products into the United States free of duty. Backed up as he will be by the incoming president, it is a pretty safe prophecy that Mr. Wright will carry his point. It may not be satisfactory to the trusts, but it ought to be satisfactory to the American people that all products of the Philippines should come into this country free of duty. Any industry that cannot compete with any product of those islands in our market on a common basis, is entirely too sickly to be worth saving.

NEW YORK'S SENATORS AND OTHERS.

It seems to be definitely settled that Elihu Root will go to the United States senate from the state of New York to succeed Thomas C. Platt, who at his best was only a politician and is now superannuated. If at the expiration of two years the Empire state should decide to send Theodore Roosevelt to the senate as a successor to Chauncey Depew, it will be represented by the most brilliant pair of senators that any state can claim. Not since Roscoe Conklin adorned the senate chamber at Washington has New York been fitly represented in that body. Let us fervently hope that sometime in the not far distant future, California will be represented there by men who are the peers of any in that august body. In this connection we note that the monument to the late Senator Stephen M. White is to be unveiled next Friday in Los Angeles. Senator White was an honest man and the ablest senator that has represented California in recent years; but he fell short of attaining to the highest pinnacle of statesmanship. Advocating as he did those twin heresies, free trade and free silver, removed him a long distance from the truly great.

TWO GOOD SPEECHES.

The addresses of County Superintendent Mark Keppel and the Rev. Hugh K. Walker at the High School ceremonies last Saturday, were both worthy performances and full of food for thought. Mr. Keppel made a plea for a system of education which will provide our young people with just the kind of knowledge which will be of use to them in the world. He does not believe in devoting much time to "dead" languages and those higher branches of learning which are of but little, if any use, to the great majority of students who do not expect to enter those professions which are sometimes termed "learned." We believe Mr. Keppel's criticism to be just in a general way, although we are not informed as to the particular changes which he would make, if it devolved upon him to put his theories into practice. There does seem to be something wrong with a system which offers the same intellectual bill of fare to young people for a term of years regardless of their natural ability, varied talents and different aims in life. The address of Mr. Walker was what might be expected from a minister of the gospel, in that it was a plea for spiritual development. But it was logical as well as earnest. His plea was based upon the assertion that the spiritual only survives. This is a fact which men of all creeds must acknowledge, and the education which does not take into consideration and lay particular stress upon this vital fact, is lacking in the main essential. In this age of wonderful material development it is perhaps natural for the human mind by almost unconscious processes to arrive at the conclusion that nothing is essential but that which is purely material. We are too apt in looking upward to allow our eyes to rest upon that triumph of architecture, the modern "skyscraper," regardless of the stars in the firmament, those "other worlds than ours," which we do not now believe were put there solely to light this little sphere on which we stop, but for a while in journeying beyond. The accumulation of knowledge is a proper, even a necessary ambition, but the greatest store of knowledge that the brain can retain, is of but little avail if its use is not dectated by wisdom. It is a good thing to get, but—"with all thy getting get understanding," for "the spiritual, only, survives."

CALIFORNIA STATE CLEARING HOUSE ASSOCIATION.

The idea of guaranteeing bank deposits by a fund contributed under legal compulsion by all the banks, is not likely to be generally adopted, but the agitation of the question will probably result in some practicable plan by which the money of depositors will be better safeguarded. It is not so much a change in the laws concerning banking that is necessary to protect depositors, but a more rigid enforcement of those now in existence. Possibly the present laws can be made more efficient, but the change does not need to be a radical one. If there is any weakness in the law concerning the responsibility of directors and stockholders, then that weakness should be repaired. Above all, however, it is necessary that there should be a system of bank examination which would make it impossible for any dishonest methods to go long undiscovered. Bank examination as at present conducted is very ineffectual and can only disclose very palpable irregularities. The panic of last fall disclosed the fact that there was something wrong with the banking system. The panic was precipitated by the dishonest methods of a set of New York bankers who should never have been given the opportunity to practice their peculiar schemes of "high finance." Similar conditions were exposed in Chicago at the time of the Walsh failures, and in both instances the dishonest methods of these financial concerns should have been discovered by the bank examiners long before circumstances forced the exposure. California has had a similar experience and it is therefore encouraging to note that an effort is being made to establish a state clearing house association in this state. A movement has been started and is rapidly being pushed to completion, for the organization of a state clearing house. The principal object of this organization is to employ independent clearing house examiners. An effort will be made to have the legislature pass a law authorizing the superintendent of banks to accept examinations made by the clearing house examiners in place of those as at present required. Every institution within the association will contribute to the fund required to maintain these examinations and there will be every incentive to induce the association to make the examinations so frequently and so thorough that unsound and dishonest practices in banking will be eliminated. With a thorough system of frequent examinations and the enforcement of the law concerning the responsibility of directors and stockholders, there would be little chance for depositors to lose their money, although no human law can insure them against the possibility of temporarily being deprived of it through the effects of a "run" on financial institutions, which will probably occur occasionally as long as humanity is human.

Words of Appreciation

Guelph, Ont., Nov. 20, 1908.

Editor News:

Having just arrived home after four months spent in Glendale, I feel that I must say a few words to my friends there. Glendale is certainly one of the loveliest spots on earth and I miss the beauty of it all and the few warm friends that I left there. Glendale is certainly beautiful, the city and its surroundings, the climate and its people. No one desirous of locating in California could find a more ideal place; doubly dear to me on account of the mound in the cemetery that I visited so often. I am glad that I had the pleasure of going to Glendale and a chance to know some of the people there. They surely excel in Christian principle and never grow weary of well doing. They have done much to lighten a mother's heart by their many acts of kindness, a memory that will be cherished by us all.

Yours very sincerely,

MRS. L. C. VARNEY.

Each contestant in this local club must answer each of the written questions for fifty-two consecutive weeks, commencing Sunday, December 6th and the answers must all be in the possession of this paper within two weeks of the close of this period, which allows two weeks grace after the close of the contest.

3. Each question must be answered separately, and the paper written on one side only. No answer must exceed two hundred words in length and may be less. It will be a convenience if students will write their answers on letter paper, about 8½x11 inches.

4. Each answer must have the name and address of the writer at the bottom of the answer, so it can be identified, given a number, registered and then the name cut off so the examiner may know it by number only.

5. Students should be careful to understand the question before answering. To do this, the lesson text must be read and especially the verse, or verses, upon which the question is based.

6. The answers from this local club must be delivered to this office, and they will be collected at the close of the contest, and forwarded to headquarters for independent examination by competent examiners. The prizes will then be awarded according to the highest number of marks won by members of the International Newspaper Bible Study club, and prizes which may be awarded to members of this local club will be given out from this office.

The Prizes.

First Series—A gold medal to each of the first five contestants.

Second Series—A silver medal to each of the next five contestants.

Third Series—A teachers' Bible, price $5.50, to each of the next five contestants.

Fourth Series—The book "The Heart of Christianity," price $1.50, to each of the next thirty-five contestants.

Fifth Series—A developed mind, an expended imagination, a richer experience and a more profound knowledge of the Bible and of life, to all who take this course, whether winning any other prize or not.

Each medal will be suitably engraved, giving the name of the winner, and for what it is awarded, and in like manner each Bible and book will be inscribed.

All who can write, and have ideas, are urged to take up these studies regardless of the degree of their education, as the papers are not valued from an educational or literary standpoint, but from the point of view of the cogency of their reasoned ideas.

Solomon Chooses Wisdom—I Kings iii, 4-15.

Golden Text—The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom. Prov. ix:10.

Verse 4—What is the chief dependence alike of a king and a citizen?

What was the chief object of sacrifices in those days? Was it to appease God, or to develop a spirit of giving to God; and did they have any idea that it prefigured the death of Jesus?

What are the chief benefits to the givers, of money given to the church, to missions and to the poor?

Which is the richer man, and the one who has lived to most purpose, he who dies leaving no estate, but having given to God's cause $20,000 during his life, or one who dies leaving an estate of $20,000, and having given away practically nothing during life?

Verse 5—Are such visions or dreams, as Solomon had, unusual in these days to spiritually minded people?

How could Solomon distinguish this dream from an ordinary dream?

Does God still give his children a choice as to what they would like, or does he choose for them?

If God does not choose for his children, does he influence them in their choice, and what is the difference in the two supposed methods?

Verse 6—What help is it to us to be able to praise God for the lives of our fathers and mothers?

Do you think it probable that our fathers and mothers, on the other side, look back and see their sons and daughters here, and take pleasure in their prosperity?

Verse 7—Should we, like Solomon, recognize the hand of God, in putting us into our present positions?

Are great men ever boastful; and is true humulity always a mark of greatness?

Verses 8-9—Solomon's chief desire was to have wisdom to properly administer the trust committed to him; what should be our chief desire?

No matter how grave our responsibilities, or difficult our position, is it absolutely sure that God will give us in auswer to our paryer, the necessary wisdom and facilities to successfully administer our trust?

Should all men in positions of public trust feel their insufficiency and call upon God as Solomon did?

Verses 10-12—Why did Solomon's request please the Lord?

Does God today answer every true or wise prayer, as he did this prayer of Solomon's?

Would not all public, and private, sin and folly be prevented if men only relied upon God?

What is some of the evidence that God gave Solomon great wisdom?

Verse 13—If our prayers are for goodness, and not greatness, to be of service and not to be served, may we depend that God will give us every other necessary thing, without our asking? (See Math. vi:31-34). (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club).

Will every true Christian have all the riches and honor that are good for him?

Verse 14—Were God's promises in this case conditional upon obedience, and are they so conditioned in every case?

Verse 15—Does communion with God always make us strong and brave and generous?

Lesson for Sunday, December 13, 1908—Solomon Dedicates the Temple. I Kings viii.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The basket ball game last Saturday between the Glendale team and the Glendora team, was entirely one-sided; the score at the finish being 43-14. At the end of the first half the score stood 17-3 in favor of Glendale, the visiting team doing better in the latter half of the game. Goals from field: Taylor 9; Sprinkle 7; Gould 1. Goals from foul line: Emery 3.

Owing to the entrance of several more schools into the league of Girls' Basket Ball the schedule as re-arranged is as follows: Glendale vs. Azusa at Glendale, Dec. 12; San Fernando vs. Glendale at San Fernando, Jan. 9; Glendale at El Monte, at Glendale, Jan. 9; Glendale vs. San Pedro, at Glendale, Jan. 16; Glendale vs. Covina, Jan. 23d; Glendale vs. Compton, at Compton, Jan. 30th.

The Freshmen's section of the literary society has arranged an attractive program for January 4th, among the features of which will be a debate on the question: "Resolved That Self-government Should Be Adopted in Glendale High School."

Glendale High School is not satisfied with having a new High School building, being ahead in the Basket Ball league and having its share in other sports, now essays to embark on the uncertain sea of journalism and to establish a High School paper. The staff has been selected and plans made for a monthly publication, the first number to be issued the first week in January. The name of the publication still remains to be decided upon. The price will be ten cents a copy or sixty cents for the remainder of the school year.

A POSTER PROGRAM.

A poster program will be given as the annual senior benefit on Saturday night in the new Odd Fellows hall, and a number of very good things are provided. Formerly it has been the custom to employ outside talent for the annual benefit, at great expense. This year excellent home talent will provide a program of rare interest and unquestioned quality. Under the direction of Mrs. M. H. Anderson the new High School orchestra has become very proficient and they expect to contribute several numbers. There will be instrumental and violin numbers and readings. Patrons of the school are expected to fill the hall to overflowing and the indications are that the only way to get a best seat is to go early.

A GYMNASIUM FOR GLENDALE.

The fire boys here leased the skating rink building on Glendale avenue corner of Fourth street, and will use it as a gymnasium. It will be fitted up with the necessary apparatus as fast as their not-overflowing treasury will permit.

After a lapse of not less than twenty-four hours a second application of oil, consisting of three-fourths (¾) of one gallon per square yard of surface, shall be applied. The second coat of oil shall be lightly harrowed into the surface in such a way as to retain this coat of oil upon the top for a wearing surface," there shall be followed in lieu of said above quoted portions of said Specifications No. 7, the following:

"When the surface of the street has been thoroughly cultivated and prepared, the first application of oil, consisting of one and one-fourth (1¼) gallons of oil per square yard of surface, shall be applied. This coat of oil shall then be thoroughly cultivated and incorporated into the four inches of loose surface soil and said street is to be kept thoroughly moistened at all times during the application of oil herein mentoned. After a lapse of not less than twenty-four hours a second application of oil, consisting of one and one-fourth (1¼) gallons of oil per square yard of surface covered, shall be applied and thoroughly cultivated and incorporated into the four inches of loose surface soil and likewise kept moistened as in first application. After the second application of oil is applied, the street shall be rolled with a smooth roller weighing not less than five (5) tons, until the surface of the street is uniformly smooth and hard. After said street is so rolled a third application of one-half (½) gallon of oil per square yard of surface covered, containing not less than 80 per cent. of asphaltum, shall be applied to said street, as a surface covering, and a sufficient amount of clean sharp sand spread over the surface of the roadway sufficient to cover and absorb said oil, and then the roadway shall be thoroughly dragged, sprinkled, rolled and compacted."

Second. That a cement curb be constructed along each side of the roadway of said Orange street from the South line of Fourth street to the North line of Fifth street and from the South line of Fifth street to the North line of Sixth street in accordance with the Specifications for the construction of cement curbs on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said Sepcifications being numbered 2, except that the top of the street face of all curbs shall be placed ten (10) feet from the property line instead of the distance from the property line provided for in said Specifications Number 2.

Third. That a cement sidewalk, five feet in width, be constructed along each side of said Orange street from the South line of Fourth street to the North line of Fifth street and from the South line of Fifth street to the North line of Sixth street, said sidewalk to be constructed according to the Specifications for cement sidewalks on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said Sepcifications being numbered 1.

Section 2. That the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale finds upon estimates directed to be furnished and furnished by the City Engineer that the total cost of said improvement will be greater than fifty cents per front foot along each line of said street, including the cost of intersections, and it is hereby determined, in pursuance of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, approved February 27, 1893, as amended by an Act of the Legislature amending said last named Act, which amending Act became a law March 2, 1899, that bonds shall be issued to represent the cost of said improvement. Said bonds shall be serial, extending over a period of ten years from their date, and an even annual proportion of the principal sum thereof shall be payable, by coupon, on the second day of January every year after their date, until the whole are paid, and said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent. per annum on all sums unpaid payable semi-annually by coupon, on the second days of January and July, respectively, of each year, until the whole of said principal and interest are paid.

And thereafter, to-wit: On the 2d day of December, 1908, awarded the contract for said work to the lowest regular, responsible bidder, to-wit: To E. A. McCombs, at the prices named for said work in his proposal on file for said work, to-wit:

ORDINANCE NO. 88.

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE PLANTING OF TREES OR SHRUBBERY IN THE PUBLIC STREETS, AVENUES OR PUBLIC PLACES IN THE CITY OF GLENDALE AND PROVIDING FOR THE MANNER OF SELECTION THEREOF.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale do ordain as follows:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to set out or plant any trees, palms or shrubbery in any part of any public street, road, avenue or public place in the City of Glendale without first obtaining permission so to do from the Board of Trustees of said City.

Section 2. It shall be lawful for the property holders representing a majority of the frontage upon any given street to select any approved variety of shade tree for said street, and to present their choice of said tree by a petition to the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, which if satisfactory to the Board of Trustees, shall be designated by a resolution by said Board of Trustees, and shall hereafter be the only kind of shade tree to be planted on such street. For the purposes of this Section the total frontage in one block is defined to be the combined frontage of both sides of any street between the two nearest intersecting streets, or the combined frontage of both sides of any street between an intersecting street and the end of such street.

Section 3. If the property holders along any given street shall fail after two months next after the adoption of this Ordinance to make the selection provided for by Section 2 hereof, then it shall be the duty of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale to select by resolution a variety of shade tree for said street, or any part thereof which shall thereafter be the only variety which shall be planted on such street or part thereof.

Section 4. No shade trees shall hereafter be planted nearer than eight (8) feet to the outside line of any alley or nearer than four (4) feet to the line which would be made by continuing the property line of any street.

Section 5. It shall be the duty of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale at the time of adopting the resolution provided for in Section 2 or section 3 of this Ordinance, to define the limits of the street, or part thereof, to which this Ordinance shall apply, and also to specify the distances at which said shade trees shall be set from each other, which shall not be construed to require the removal of any shade trees heretofore planted and growing.

Section 6. The term of six months from and after the date of this Ordinance shall be allowed to the property holders on the streets of the City of Glendale, in which to set out shade trees in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance, and thereafter the Board of Trustees may cause such trees to be planted as have by resolution been selected, and the cost therefor to be assessed upon the property in front of which said trees are so planted.

Section 7. Any person or corporation violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in the sum of not less than Five Dollars ($5.00) or more than Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00), or shall be imprisoned in the County Jail of the County of Los Angeles for not more than thirty (30) days, or by such fine and imprisonment.

Section 8. All Ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 9. The City Clerk shall certify to the passage of this Ordinance and cause the same to be published once in the GLENDALE NEWS, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in the said City of Glendale, and thereupon and thereafter the same shall be in full force and effect.

MICROBES, FRIENDLY AND OTHERWISE.

(For The News).

A copy of the "Dunstable Borough Gazette," recently received from Mr. Herbert H. Middleton, a former resident of Glendale, contains a report of an excellent lecture on this interesting subject by Prof. W. B. Bottomley of Kings College, London, and as it conveys much valuable information in a popular and entertaining manner, I here transcribe it for the benefit of readers of the News.

There is much general misunderstanding about those wonderful little workers in nature called microbes, and many people think of them as loathsome, voracious little animals, which get into the body and cause great pain and sickness, by the gnashing of their jaws and wiggling of their tails. But microbes were, in fact

Plants, and Not Animals.

They are to be found almost everywhere, and may chiefly be divided into three classes: circular, rod-shaped, and spiral. They are about one 15,000th of an inch in diameter, and about five times as many of them could be packed on a two-cent postage stamp as there are people in England, or about 30 millions, and there would yet ge no danger of overcrowding; and they would not be packed nearly as tightly as five persons on the seat of a street car. They have a most singular way of multiplying. When a microbe becomes too long, it simply developes a waist, which gradually grows slimmer and slimmer (and here is a terrible hint to the ladies) until it breaks into halves, both of which starts at once to grow into a full microbe, and in due course developes a waist, and suffers the halving process. An interesting calculation here suggests itself. Supposing it takes each half of a microbe, after the waist has broken, an hour to grow to the full length, and at the end of that first hour they would have two, they would again halve and multiply, and their successors would halve and multiply, until at the end of 24 hours there would, from one microbe, be no less than 16 millions! If those 16 millions multiplied at the same rate, they would have a number at the end of the second day which, the lecturer said, he would leave his audience to work out for themselves. Microbes drop into everything, into milk, and turn it sour because they split up the constituents of the milk, assimilating part of it as food, and converting the other part into what may be termed "microbe waste." It is the latter substance which turns the milk sour and imparts the fine flavor to cheese.

An Awful Warning.

A photograph was shown of a lady who devoted herself to the interests of science by trailing a new, clean skirt through the streets of London for one hour only, after which it was taken into the laboratory and tested, and it was found that over ten and one-half million microbes had been gathered up! From those were isolated deadly germs of consumption and other terrible diseases. Would that the ladies would take heed of this awful warning, but it is feared that if fashion decrees that they must trail their skirts—trail them they will! "But," said one lady to the lecturer, "if I do "trail my skirts, I always have them well brushed when I get back home." Think of that! To trail a skirt about for hours, picking up many millions of deadly microbes, and then to have those germs of disease brushed off in the home, amongst their dearest and best loved relatives and friends! It is the partial decompositions set up by microbes which give pheasants, partridges, hares and venison the fine "gamey" flavor so much appreciated by connoisseurs—it is the microbes they like—not the game. And so with the fine Havana cigars: there is a finely equipped laboratory in America, said the lecturer, which is ready to send out to cigar-makers in any part of the world, cultures of the particular microbe which give those cigars their flavor, and the result is that there are fewer real Havana cigars! But there are friendly microbes which play a most important part in the economy of nature by acting as scavengers—also in horticulture and agriculture by setting up nodules at the roots of plants and by feeding the plants with nitrogen.

Coming to the important part they play in human life, a magnified drop of human blood was shown, containing microbes, the red corpuscles, and the leucocytes or

Blood Policemen

Whose function it is to arrest and destroy disease germs. This process is always going on in the blood; and while a person is healthy and strong, the "policemen" may be said to be in strong force and capable of battling successfully with the objectionable germs, but when in a low state of health, the "police force" gets below par, and the disease germs triumph. When toxins, or poisons, are present in the blood, anti-toxins are given off by these wonderful leucocytes, which fix upon and neutralize the poisons, and it is thus that a person who has successfully passed through a siege of a disease becomes immune from that disease, by means of the anti-toxins generated in his blood in the battle with the disease germs during his sickness. In conclusion the learned lecturer showed how

Sunlight Kills Disease Germs,

Which can only thrive in darkness. Housekeepers should therefore throw open their windows and pull back the window shades, so as to admit as much fresh air and sunlight as possible. What if the sunlight did spoil the carpet, they would save enough expense in doctor's bills to buy two new ones. Let in the sunlight: it will kill disease. Let in knowledge, it will kill bigotry, ignorance and prejudice. Let in truth: it will kill evil and wickedness.

This lecture is specially valuable because it brings home a somewhat obscure subject to everyday life, and this of course must be the final test of the value of all our knowledge, as it enables us to live healthier, happier and holier lives. X-RAY.

The Alumni Association of the University of California has issued a statement repudiating the circular sent out by the promoters of the project for capital removal which bore the heading, "University of California Alumni Capital Removal Committee," and stating that the circular was entirely without the authority of the Alumni which is only advocating those measures of state which will assure the university's receiving proper support, which means increased appropriations for needed improvements and additional facilities.

ENTERTAINMENT TONIGHT.

We have received invitations to attend a literary and musical performance to be given at Odd Fellows' hall this evening, for the benefit of the senior class of the High School. We hope to see the young people supported by a good attendance and the audience is assured that they will get the worth of their money.

THE TROPICO COONS.

This aggregation of home talent played to a good house Saturday evening last at Odd Fellows' hall. The performance was enjoyed; the audience showing its appreciation of the original songs set to popular airs and the local hits which were cleverly worked into the program.

GLENDALE

To a person accustomed to and appreciating the advantages of the city, but who prefers a life in the country for considerations of health, pleasure or profit, the ideal location for a home is found in a pleasant country neighhood within a few minutes' ride of the city.

This close association of city and country gives to property in the suburbs of a large and rapidly growing city a value which is difficult to estimate in dollars and cents. It is a consideration which appeals forcibly alike to the home-seeker who is fortunately above the necessity of taking into account the question of a financially profitable investment; to the tiller of the soil, who must necessarily figure upon the associated ideas of a productive soil, favorable climatic conditions, and a near-by market; and finally to the investor looking with speculative eye upon the promise made by a particular locality in regard to the probable increase in values in the near future.

To all the above classes, GLENDALE appeals with peculiar force given by its unique merits and varied attractions. In an air line it is six miles from the business centre of Los Angeles and about three miles from the northern boundary of that city.

RAILROADS

The Glendale branch of the Salt Lake Railroad Company, starting from its depot on First street, passes through East Los Angeles, along the base of the low hills on the northern limits of the city paralleling the line of the Southern Pacific road until it reaches Glendale avenue at its junction with the San Fernando road, where it proceeds northward through Glendale to its present terminus, Verdugo Park.

The Huntingdon Electric Railway system has recently completed a double-track line connecting Los Angeles and Glendale, first-class in its construction, equipment and service, following a route which for scenic beauty is probably unequalled by any ride of similar length in Southern California

The first rails for the new extension of the Los Angeles Railway Company have been laid and cars will be running in a few weeks.
